

The image features teal line-art floral illustrations in the corners. The top-right corner shows a large flower with many petals and a cluster of leaves. The bottom-left corner shows a large rose and some smaller flowers with leaves. The bottom-right corner shows a few leaves and a small flower. In the top-left corner, there is a small sprig with three leaves.

Lake Atitlan

Flight from Mexico City to Guatemala City

Airport in Mexico. City: Benito Juárez International Airport

- Leaving at 6:55 pm
- 1 hour 56 mins
- It would cost $272

Airport in Guatemala City: La Aurora International Airport

- Arriving at 8:51 PM
- Once arriving, get on a local bus to Panajachel
- Which will take 4 - 5.5 hours
- Would cost least $49
- Could also take a rental car
- Would take 3 hours cost around $40 - $60

Lake Atitlán is said to be named after a beautiful princess named Atitlán. According to the legend, she was turned into the lake by the gods to protect her from enemies. The lake is surrounded by volcanoes and villages, and the local Maya people believe the lake holds the spirit of the princess, making it a sacred and magical place.

Se dice que el lago de Atitlán lleva el nombre de una hermosa princesa llamada Atitlán. Según la leyenda, los dioses la transformaron en el lago para protegerla de sus enemigos. El lago está rodeado de volcanes y aldeas, y el pueblo maya local cree que el lago alberga el espíritu de la princesa, lo que lo convierte en un lugar sagrado y mágico.